Skytrax: For the eighth time, Budapest Airport is the best airport in the region

Located at a distance of about 16 kilometers, Budapest Ferenc Liszt International Airport is one of the largest airports in the whole country of Hungary. Set in the southeast region of Budapest, it was earlier known as the Budapest Ferihegy International Airport and was later renamed as the Budapest Ferenc Liszt International Airport as a tribute to an eminent music composer.

Connecting the city to the major cities across the world, Budapest Ferenc Liszt International Airport is much famed to be one of the most efficient airports in the world. Reckoned to be an eminent and budding hub in the eastern region of Europe, the airport is favored by most of the travelers for its striking features like that of a SkyCourt, multi-brand stores, an array of shops, and much more. Apart from that, services like processing time, short queues, and fast internet access, also are much favored by the travelers.
